Message from Chair

Our 2011-2012 Program Year got off to a great start. Over 30 members and guests attended the meeting including five or six for the first time. Education Chair, Dr. Lois Jordan, presented a preliminary plan of the courses for the coming year. If you have a topic that you think should be offered, please contact her. Once the schedule is finalized, it will be posted on the Section's website: www.asqtampabay.org. Watch your inbox for the email with the details on how to register for one of the courses.

Our Internet Liaison and Voice of the Customer Chair, Julia Sennikovski, gave a great presentation on the amount of time required for software testing. As the Vice President of the Quality Management Group at FIS, she has a lot of experience in this area. The presentation was created in response to a question from the president of her company who asked, "Why does it take so long to test software?" I learned a lot about the challenges of delivering software to end users. Even those of us who are not IT professionals found it very interesting. The presentation slides are already posted on the Section's website.

Dr. Ken Stephens will be presenting the findings from ASQ's 6th Futures Study. There should be a lot of information about the forces that will be affecting our futures in the quality profession and as individuals. See the newsletter for more details.

Unfortunately, inflation has caught up with us. You will notice that the cost of the monthly meetings has increased to $30. This charge for the meetings covers the cost of the meals, the Section does not make any money on this and if there are several no-shows, the Section covers the difference between the actual attendance and the numbers of meals ordered for the meeting. The consensus among those attending the September meeting was that this charge was reasonable.

A couple of members contacted me about filling one of the open Board positions. I appreciate their interest and hope they decide to join the Board.

If you have any questions or suggestions for improving the Section, please contact me. In the meantime, I hope to see you at the October 10th meeting.
